SEAMEO TROPMED Network

SEAMEO TROPMED Network is a regional cooperation network established in 1967 for education, training and research in tropical medicine and public health under Southeast Asian Ministers of Education Organization. The mission of SEAMEO TROPMED is to promote health and to prevent or control diseases, thus improving the living conditions of people through relevant programmes and services. One specific objective is to develop the capacity of individuals and institutions in delivering quality healthcare. The Network operates through the Regional Centre for Community Nutrition in Indonesia; Regional Centre for Microbiology, Parasitology and Entomology in Malaysia; Regional Centre for Public Health in the Philippines and Regional Centre for Tropical Medicine in Thailand. These Regional Centres are affiliated with academic and research institutions which provide the physical facilities, faculty and technical support staff in respective Member Countries. SEAMEO TROPMED is unique insofar as no other similar organization exists in the developing world that serves as a focal point in higher education and research, thereby maximizing the benefits to be gained from North-South and South-South collaborative efforts in health.
